Mrs. CHRISTIAN'S AT-HOME.

Mrs. Andrew Christian was at home to ber friends on Wednesday afternoon. The tea-table was presided over daintily by Miss Helen D. Christian. Shaded lamps and palms beautified the scene. Among the callers were: Mrs. McGuire, Miss Bessie Martin, Miss Kose, Miss Cullen, Misses Mary and Helen Cameron, Nettie Potts, Mrs. Joynes, Misses Lelia Myers, May Handy, and Mrs. Otway Allen.

Mrs. Philip Haxall chaperoned a supper party given in honor of several young ladies prominent in society on Tuesday.

THE ASSOCIATION BALL.

The Invitation Committee of the Association ball, which is exciting the greatest interest in social circles, met yesterday afternoon to complete the revision of the management of the invitation list. This committee is composed of the resident members of the Central Committee of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities. Mrs. Joseph Bryan, president of the association, is chairman.

Mrs. Camm, Mrs. G. Woodbridge, Mrs. Seymour Cadot will assist in issuing invitations. Mrs. Philip Haxail as vice-president of the association, was asked to notify the ladies and gentlemen who have been chosen by the Central Committee to take part in the court scene and the dance.

Miss Irene Langhorne, dressed in two contrasting colors, will lead the dance, which is to be the "Saraband," a stately dance that is very popular in Spain, France, and England. It was introduced at the French Court in 1533, where Richelien, wearing green breeches with tells on his feet and castanets in his hands, appeared in a ballet before Anne of Austria. In England the Saraband was soon transformed into an ordinary country dance.

It is needless to discourse of the beauty and grace of movement with which it will be revived here on January 27th.

The invitations for the Association ball were received by the committee iast night, and are models of tasts and beauty. The design, which is a joint conception of Mr. W. L. Shepperd, the artist, and Mr. Thomas Boiling, is exceedingly simple but decidedly unique and pretty. On the top of the card a scroll is printed. This bears the words, "Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities," Immediately beneath this description is the badge of the organization, which has upon it the Latin words, "Dei Gyatia Virginia Condita, 1697," and a piciure of the three ships of the fleet of Captain John Smith. On the body of the card the following words are engraved:

"The honour of your prefence is requefted at

Death of Mr. Henry H. Meyer in Charlottesville.

Mr. Henry H. Meyer, a former resident of Richmond, who was seriously hurt in Charlottesville about two weeks ago by being thrown from a buggy, died yesterday at noon in that city from the injuries he received. Mr. Meyer was in the thirty-fifth year of his age, and leaves a widow and two children. He was formerly a member of Fraternal Lodge, No. 58. A. F. and A. M., of Virginia, Council, 26, Royal Arcanum, and of the Endowment Guild, His remains will arrive this afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, and the funeral will take place from the residence of his father on Monday at 11 o'clock.

death occurred both of his legs were broken. At first strong hopes were enter-tained of his recovery, and a telegram to this effect was received early yesterday morping, but later a message armouncing his death reached here.

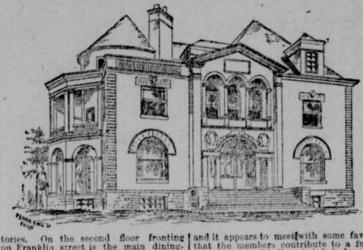

On Friday evening, January 8th, quite a large party of friends assembled at the residence of Mr. Anthony Wren, the occasion being a party given by that gentleman to a few of his friends. The young people greatly enjoyed themselves by playing partor and other games, after which a large supper with all the delevacies of the season was spread, and the boys and girls partook heartily of it. They then closed in the "wee small hours of the morning." Among those present were Mr. A. D. Wren with Miss Teresa Rixroth, Mr. Leslie Mc. Indoe with Miss Lizzie Wren, Mr. Shelton Vaden with Miss Ethel Faulkner, Mr. Charles Mason with Misses Gay and Lily Dansey, Mr. Harry Hamilton with Miss Maggie Jones, and Mr. W. H. Mason with Miss Mary Reberts.

final touches on the interior of the Com-monwealth Club building, which it is designed to throw open about the 15th of this month. The architecture of the building within and without is after the Colonial style, and elegant and tasteful in

The material is granite, with red sand-stone facings to its first or main floor, and thence the best stock brick with terra cotta trimmings, and the general effect of the elevation is one of solidity and richness. The principal or Franklin-street entrance is generous, being approached from the pavement by a wide flight of granite steps, rising to a yard-landing, from which a flight of outward-curved sandstone steps leads to the portico.

The main hall is fitted up in quartered oak with wide stairway in the rear. On the west side of the hall is the principal parlor, with high colonial wainscoating and mantels and finished in white and gold. On the east is a circular conversation-room and rectangular room, the former opening upon a piazza, and both being in ivory tin!. To the rear of the stairway

On the second floor fronting on Franklia street is the main dining-room, capable of seating some two hundred guests, which opens on the Monroe street or east side into a small private dining-room and circular conversation-room. On the west side, adjoining the large dining-room, are a card-room and a buffet-room, and to the rear of the hall is a ladies' cloak-room and dining-room—the latter over the reading-room.

The building is perfect in appointments for receptions.

LADIES' ENTRANCE.

From Monroe street there is a ladies' private entrance and staircase leading to this story and the entire front, centre, and east division of the floor can be practically thrown into one large apartment, all portions of which will be visible from the magnificent oaken hall. In these rooms ivory is also the prevailing tint. On the upper floor are

The quarterly meeting of the Executive Committee of the Richmond Protestant Episcopal Missionary Society will be held at the lecture-room of St. James church to-morrow night at 8 o'clock. Bishop Randolph is expected to preside in the absence through sickness of Bishop Whittle, the president. Each Episcopal church in Richmond and vicinity is entitled to five representatives on this committee. Of these three may be ladies. The society pays one half the salary of a missionary in Brazil and the whole of the salary of a diocesan evangelist. The anniversary, which is usually held on Epiphany (the cith of January), has been postponed this year to the Sist of the month, when Rev. Lucien L. Kinsolving, one of the Brazilian missionaries, and Rev. William L. Newbold, general secretary of the American Church Missionary Society, will be present and make addresses at St. James church.

church has been changed from 11 to 11:30 o'clock.

The Baptist union-meetings will be continued through this week as follows: Monday and Thursday nights at Leigh-Street church, Tuesday and Friday nights at Grace-Street church. The houses of worship will hold their usual Wednesday night services.

The Baptist Sunday-School Association of Richmond and Manchester will hold its quarterly meeting afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with the Fourth-Street church.

There will be a Gospel temperance meeting to-night at the wigwam, Barton Heights. An address will be made by O. W. Biain, of Michigan. The meeting will commence at 8 o'clock and the public are invited to attend.

The total cost of the club-house, exclusive of furniture, is put at between $75,000 and $80,000. The furniture and upholstering have been purchased in New York, but have not arrived yet. They are said to be both luxurous and beautiful and to have been selected with special reference to the architectural design of the building and the finish of the several apartments.

The ladies' apartments can be made as thoroughly secluded as any private house in the city. Dumb-waiters run from the basement to the top of the house and three or four select entertainments might be in progress at one time without interfering with one another.

that he did not think any other Richmond manufacturer had joined the association. Mr. Goodman said further that while they had not seen fit to unite with the organization, they would not be at all injured by it, and would share in its benefits, as their prices will also advance in accordance with the schedule adopted at Chicago. His company, he says, have plenty of corn for this year, having bought a very large stock during the fall and winter. The retail price of brooms will probably advance about ten cents spiece.

The very short crop of corn and unusually high price of the article is said to be the cause of the broom-makers effecting this combination. It is reported that for the past five years the consumption of the post five years the consumption of the past five years the y ondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.

Charel Hill, N. C., January 2.—The University of North Carolina opened its doors after two weeks of Christmas holidays on the morning of the 5th, with nearly all the old students back and a number of new ones on the grounds. There are probably two hundred and thirty students now on the canpus.

Dr. George F. Winaton, president of the University, made an address to the student body Thursday morning. He announced amid applause that the chair of secology, suggested by Walter H. Fage, of the Forma, would probably be established by the opening of the University next September. The establishment of this chair will be for the purpose of compiling and collecting statistics concerning the negroes in the South, which may be of some use in time of solving the negro problem, and of keeping the world informed concerning the physical, moral, and intellectual condition of the lately freed slaves.

The sociology of the negroes will be investigated in all its phases. Questions like these will be examined into: What proportion of the negroes are property-owners and what proportion of these are full-bloaded negroes and what proportion are one half, one fourth, or one eighth black; what proportion of the race are professional men or women, and whether the black or the mulatto predominates among these; the health statistics of the race in the South? Especial study will be paid to subject of the amalgamation of the races; whether it is increasing, and at what rate; what it may portend? Ac. Ac.

Dr. Winston stated that he had talked with many friends of the University and that they favored this proposed work. Many of the prominent negroes of the State, too, he said, looked with favor upon the scheme. Furthermore, he hoped that the United States Census Bureau might be enlisted in the work of collecting statistics about the black race in our country more fully and exhaustively than ever before.

AGRICULTURE.

Lucien L. Kinsolving, one of the Brazilian in missionaries, and Rev. William L. Newbold, general secretary of the American Church Missionary Society, will be present and make addresses at St. James church.

Beginning to-night Rev. J. W. Johnson will deliver, at St. Philip's colored Episcopal church as series of Epiphamy letters entitled, "The Religions of the World." The subject of the lecture the World." The subject of the lecture to the World." The subject of the lecture that those attending these lectures may have no trouble in finding the lation is what is needed in our State. It will come, predicted the Doctor, and eventually when the maintenance of agricultural pursuits has become a stern necessity for the sustentation of life we will have great mechanical contrivances in the fields for the purposes of planting, tending, and gathering the crops that have never yet been conceived. Invention must necessarily turn its attention to this field before very long.

The financial depression is having its effect on the University. One of the farmer's sons told your correspondent that he feared he would have to return home for lack of funds, although his father, a well-to-do planter in the Piedmont section of the State, has on hand $500 worth of cattle and about $1,000 worth of mules, both the result of foreclosed mortgages, but upon which little can be realized at present.

Miss Mamie Stollings, of Henderson has returned home.

From some unaccountable cause our notice of the New-Year edition of the DESPATCH failed to appear in our last issue. It was such an edition as our neighbor may well be proud of. Filled with such valuable information about our city, wel classified and nestly printed, it should no only be read by all of our citizens, but stored every household for future
